Welcome to BFREPA LIVE 25: James Baxter

It's a pleasure to welcome you all to BFREPA LIVE 2025. Each year this event grows in scale and significance, and this year is no exception.

We have added more stands this year, taking the total to over one hundred - an incredible reflection of the innovation, energy, and unity within the free range egg sector.

As a sector, we are united behind our challenges, and we've tried to reflect that unity in this year's speaker line-up. Our programme brings together voices from across the industry to address the key issues facing producers today, share experiences, and explore opportunities for a stronger, more resilient future.

My sincere thanks go to all our sponsors, whose generous support makes BFREPA Live possible. Your partnership not only helps us deliver an event of this calibre but also highlights the strength of our industry when we work together toward shared goals.

This marks the third consecutive year that Noble Foods has proudly served as our headline sponsor, and I extend my heartfelt gratitude for their continued commitment to this event and to the free range sector. I would also like to thank Newquip, Alltech, Innovad, and Elanco for their ongoing support and valued contribution. A special mention goes to Morspan Construction, our Awards Sponsor, for helping us celebrate the excellence and dedication of producers and businesses across the industry.

At BFREPA, we take great pride in recognising those who go above and beyond. Our awards celebrate the producers who set new standards of excellence and the companies whose innovation and support enable our members to succeed. Together, we ensure that the knowledge, experience, and passion of today's producers continue to inspire the free range producers of tomorrow.

I hope you all enjoy this year's conference and the Gala Dinner. It's wonderful to see both familiar faces and new members joining us as we celebrate our achievements and look ahead to another exciting year for the free-range community.

If it doesn't land right,
it doesn't work right.

Novyrate® delivers butyrate exactly where it matters. Coated. Esterified. Encapsulated. Not all butyrates are built the same way.

Novyrate® is engineered for targeted delivery, fueling gut cells, and fortifying the barrier. Accurate where it counts, effective where it matters. Because harmony begins on the inside.

Welcome to BFREPA LIVE 25: Noble Foods

Noble Foods is delighted to support the 2025 BFREPA Conference, a vital forum for everyone passionate about British free-range eggs. This event is more than a meeting – it's a chance to share ideas and shape the future of the sector together.

Free-range egg farming continues to face change and complexity, from evolving consumer expectations to sustainability demands. These challenges are real, but they also bring opportunity. By working collectively, we can strengthen our industry, champion high standards of welfare and innovate for a more resilient future.

We're proud to see strong growth in high-welfare, high-quality, affordable eggs. A testament to the trust consumers place in British free-range farming. At the same time, we must redouble our biosecurity efforts as avian influenza infection levels in wild birds continue to rise. Protecting our flocks and safeguarding supply is critical for the health of our sector.

I look forward to connecting with you and exploring how we can keep British free-range eggs at the forefront of quality and trust. Thank you for being part of this journey and here's to a productive and inspiring day ahead.

Gary Ford

BFREPA Head of Strategy and Producer Engagement

Gary Ford is Head of Strategy and Producer Engagement at BFREPA, having started in post in November 2024. Prior to taking up his new role, Gary was Chief Executive of the BEIC.

From a Worcestershire farming family, managing dairy, arable and pigs, Gary has spent his working life in the agricultural sector.

Starting his professional career at the NFU, he spent 19 years with the organisation covering a variety of roles, including Chief Poultry Adviser, supporting members through a range of issues.

Gary is passionate about poultry and supporting producers. Working closely with BFREPA members and helping them to succeed is one of his key priorities.

Rt Hon George Eustice

Managing Director of Penbrooth Ltd

George Eustice was a Minister in DEFRA for nine years including almost three years in Cabinet. He brought into law the Agriculture Act 2020, the Environment Act 2021 and the Fisheries Act 2020 which together established the main policy frameworks for the post EU era. He also developed most of the policies under the Future Agriculture Programme for England including the Sustainable Farming Incentive and Landscape Recovery Fund. Before entering politics he worked for ten years in the family farming business in Cornwall and he studied horticulture at Writtle College. He campaigned to leave the EU but resigned from Theresa May's government in order to make the case for a compromise built around membership of EFTA and the EEA. Since leaving Government he has built his own consultancy business, Penbrooth, which specialises in the environment and agri-tech.

Lewis Acred

Supply Chain Fairness Lead, DEFRA

Lewis Acred is a Senior Policy Adviser at Defra. He has been leading work reviewing fairness in the supply chain in the egg and fresh produce sectors since June 2023. He joined the department in 2020, initially leading on reforms to Countryside Stewardship and then working on the 2022 Government Food Strategy. Lewis previously worked at the Department for International Trade, the Department for Business, Energy & Industrial Strategy and the Department for Work and Pensions, having joined the Civil Service from the private sector in 2017.

— Dr Christine Middlemiss CB BVMS MRCVS —

UK Chief Veterinary Officer (CVO)

Dr. Christine Middlemiss CB BVMS MRCVS is the UK Chief Veterinary Officer (CVO), appointed in March 2018. She serves as the government's principal adviser on animal health, welfare, and biosecurity, leading national responses to major disease outbreaks such as avian influenza and bovine tuberculosis.

Raised on a beef and sheep farm in the Scottish Borders, Christine graduated from the University of Glasgow Veterinary School and began her career as a mixed-practice veterinarian in Scotland and northern England. She later joined the Animal Health Agency (now part of the Animal and Plant Health Agency), progressing through senior roles in animal traceability, surveillance, and disease control policy at Defra.

Gordon Hickman

Head of Exotic Disease Control: Defra

Gordon has an honours degree in agriculture from Reading University. He spent 18 years as an agricultural adviser with ADAS in Southern England specialising in business management and waste & environmental management. In May 2001, he was seconded to the UK Ministry of Agriculture Fisheries and Food to assist with the disposal operations during the 2001 FMD outbreak, joining Defra on a permanent basis in 2004.

Gordon is currently Head of exotic disease control in Defra, where he is responsible for policy and legislation for exotic notifiable diseases of animals, new and emerging animal disease threats and surveillance policy. This includes policy preparedness and response to disease outbreaks such as avian influenza. He has also been heavily involved with the avian influenza vaccination task force.

Angie Curtis

CEO, RoboScientific Limited

Angie Curtis is Chief Executive of Roboscientific Limited, an agritech company developing sensing technology using Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs) to automatically and non-invasively detect disease in livestock by sampling the air. Since joining as Sales Director in 2016, Angie has led collaborations with farmers, pharmaceutical companies, and manufacturers to create affordable tools that improve animal health and productivity. Working with APHA, she aims to develop an early warning system for Avian Influenza. Angie is keen to connect with free-range egg farmers interested in trialling this technology to enhance flock health and egg quality.

Full Detox mode activated

Escent® helps eliminate toxins so your animals can focus on performing.

Escent is a scientifically validated detoxification solution, developed to work in synergy with Innovad's Biomonitoring* Program. This powerful combination ensures mycotoxin risks are identified, monitored, and mitigated in real time. Escent binds a wide range of mycotoxins without disturbing vital nutrients and helps animals withstand toxic stress. The result: reduced toxin load, stronger immunity and measurable improvements in health and performance.
